

WHAT IS A TRIVIA NIGHT?

Some of the most popular programs on television are quiz shows because people are both inquisitive and competitive. A quiz night is a function where a group of people get together and have their own quiz competition. If you are looking for a team based activity where people from all backgrounds and abilities can come together in a relaxed and fun environment you will not find a better option than a quiz night.

That is why quiz nights becoming more and more popular, especially for groups trying to raise money or companies looking for team building activities. Some of the benefits include:

- Fun. The questions and the team based structure make for an entertaining night out.
- Interactive. There is constant discussing, agreeing and disagreeing amongst a team during the quiz night. There are also games in between the rounds and other activities.
- Team based. Players form teams of up to 10 people. Not only does it encourage team work but also provides stimulus if the players don't know each other.
- Simple. One of the great benefits is that a quiz night is very cheap and simple to run.
- Fundraising. There are many reasons to run a quiz night including fundraising. It's hard to find other fundraising events where people enjoy themselves nearly as much.

Main uses: There are many reasons why you might run a quiz night including fundraising or for a social club. Others we have done include school camps and birthday parties.

Fundraising: A trivia night is a very effective form of fundraising for groups such as schools, sports clubs and charities. As well as the trivia, Legends Trivia provides ideas and tips to maximise the fundraising including a list of games you can play to get people involved.

Social/Corporate: Because trivia nights are simple to organize, great fun and team based, they are very popular with corporate groups or social clubs. We have run trivia nights for product launches, for conferences, team-building and of course, the annual social night.

HOW DOES IT WORK?

A trivia night lasts anywhere from three to four hours. Players form teams that compete amongst each other, usually for prizes. A standard Legends Trivia function consists of seven rounds of 10 questions and other novelty events (see below for more information on our packages). At the end of the night, the team with the highest score wins. Simple!

The Questions: Legends Trivia provides a complete questions package which contains everything you will need to run a trivia night. As well as the questions, the package includes guidelines, fundraising tips, games suggestions, answer and marking sheets.

The Host: To run a trivia night you will need a host to read out the questions and keep score. Experience is not necessary as the questions package comes with full instructions and tips. However, the host should have a strong voice and be entertaining.

Our Questions

The challenge for a quiz night is to avoid questions that are too hard, too obscure or too easy. Each Legends Trivia Questions Package includes what we think are the most popular questions in our database. All packages have the same format, which is six rounds of 10 questions, novelties (see below) and the other helpful extras.

Tonight's Task: This is a task for players to complete during the night. For example, match faces with names or solve a word puzzle.

Who Am I: As the name suggests, this question requires the teams to solve the clues and name the person. A new clue is asked each round with the number of bonus points on offer falling each time.

Music Round: The music round is the perfect finish to the trivia night, it is great fun and usually gets everyone involved.
